ARMAN SALEMI

Arman Salemi is a New York City-based architectural designer, 3D sculpture artist, musician, and developer. He explores the unseen by synthesizing clarity and chaos, aesthetics and intelligence, emotion and function, shaping an infinite relationship between mind and space.

From an early age, Arman was drawn to creation—music, painting, glasswork, carpentry, and hands-on making. This passion led him to architecture, designing projects in Dubai before moving to the United States to earn a Master's in Architecture from Syracuse University, winning several competitions along the way. For Arman, creating is inseparable from his identity, spanning disciplines and continually shaping his vision.

CRIMSON NEXUS

This 3D artwork explores the dynamic relationship between form and space through intricate, fluid extrusions in vibrant magenta and deep black. The piece creates a sense of movement, with each curve and hollow drawing the viewer into its evolving surface. The bold 10" extrusions invite reflection on the transformation of space, where geometry transcends mere structure to become an expression of possibility. The interplay of light and shadow adds depth, turning the piece into a living, ever-changing landscape that challenges our perception of materiality and spatial boundaries.

WAVES OF FLUX

The artwork is a large-scale 3D sculpture composed of numerous rectangular extrusions, each 4 inches thick. These extrusions are arranged in a grid pattern that undulates across the surface, creating a series of peaks and valleys. The extrusions are painted in three colors: black, white, and a vibrant purple. The interplay of these colors and the three-dimensional structure creates a dynamic flow and a sense of constant transformation. The piece is displayed against a dark background, and a portion of a black support structure with the brand name 'Sonn' is visible at the top.

This 3D artwork captures the essence of movement through undulating waves formed by intricate 4" extrusions. The interplay of black, white, and purple hues creates a dynamic flow, where the grid structure offers order while the shifting surfaces suggest constant transformation. The piece embodies the philosophy that space is not static but alive, pulsing with energy and change. As light and shadow interact with the sculptural depth, the artwork evokes a sense of fluidity and continuous motion, inviting the viewer to experience space as a living, evolving entity.

VOLCANIC RESONANCE

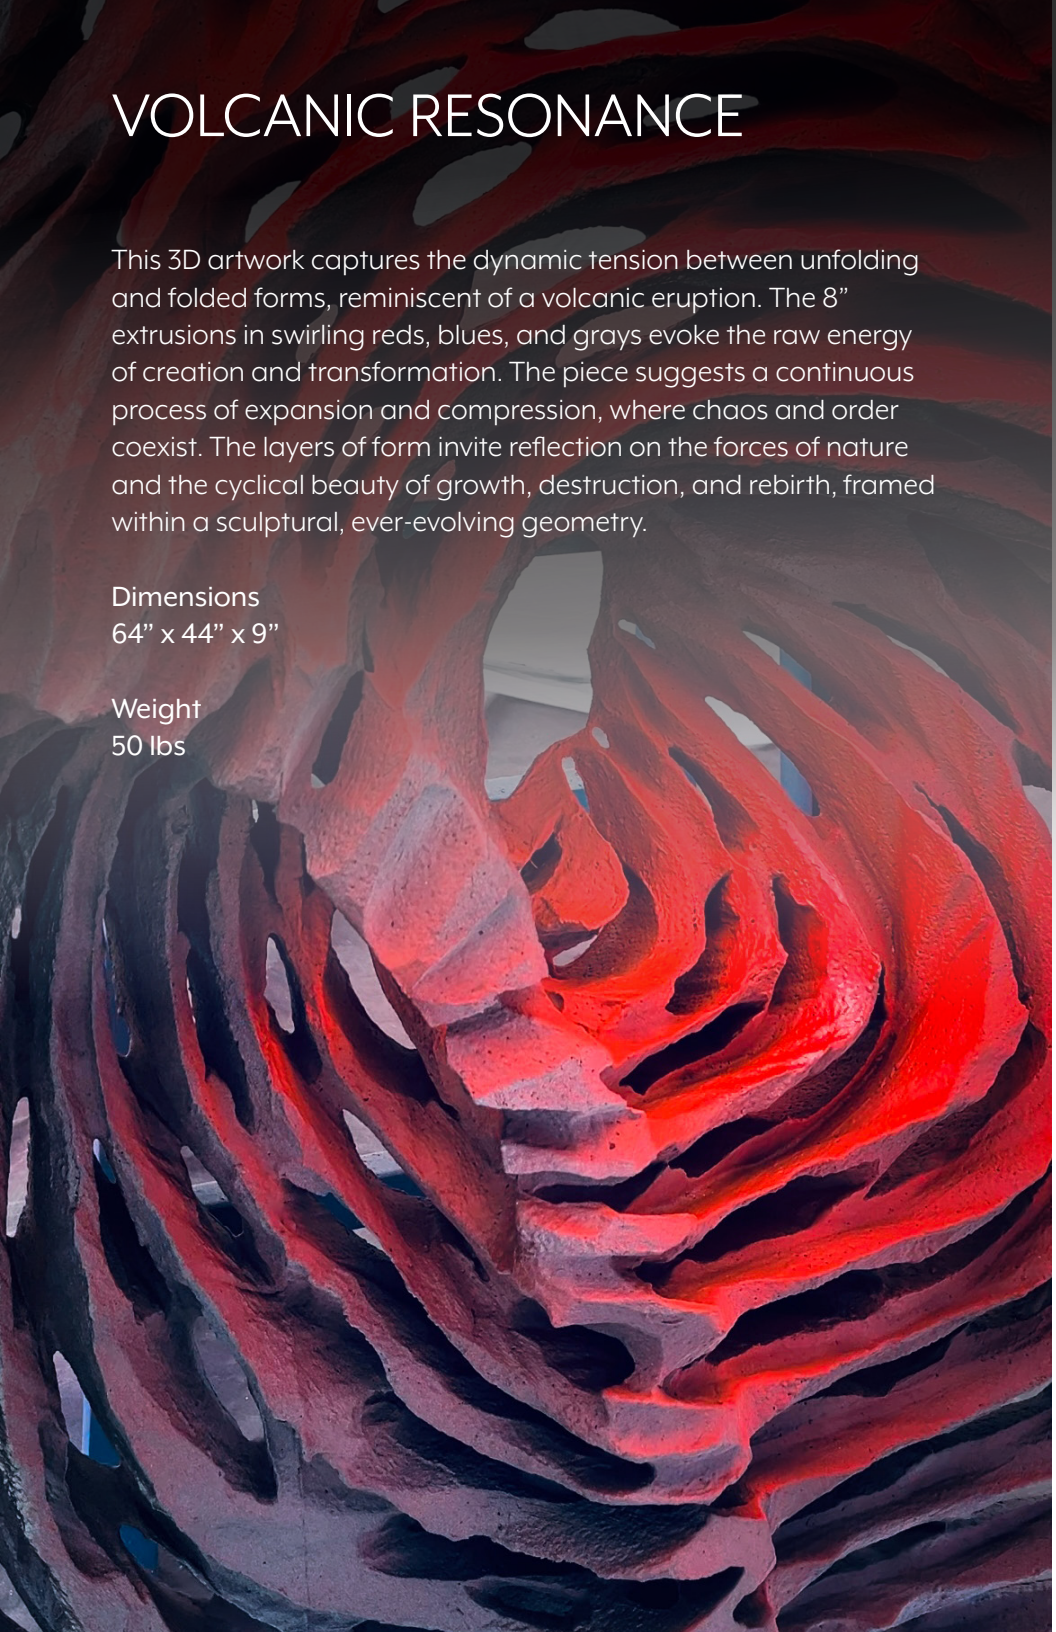

This 3D artwork captures the dynamic tension between unfolding and folded forms, reminiscent of a volcanic eruption. The 8" extrusions in swirling reds, blues, and grays evoke the raw energy of creation and transformation. The piece suggests a continuous process of expansion and compression, where chaos and order coexist. The layers of form invite reflection on the forces of nature and the cyclical beauty of growth, destruction, and rebirth, framed within a sculptural, ever-evolving geometry.

CHROMATIC WAVES

This 3D artwork blends organic forms with geometric precision, creating a dynamic, immersive experience. The interplay of vibrant blues and pinks evokes a sense of movement, blurring the line between tactile and visual. Its fluid, sculptural surfaces invite reflection on the ever-changing nature of space, challenging traditional boundaries and engaging the viewer in a dialogue between tension and release. In its bold fusion of color, form, and texture, the piece reshapes our perception of space and the way we experience it.
